PRESS RELEASE

Something for all at Royal meetings

The new season of meetings at The Royal Philatelic Society London begins on Thursday, 15 September when, as traditional, the members will be privileged to see material from The Royal Philatelic Collection, shown by gracious permission of Her Majesty The Queen. This year the display will be of British Guiana and Barbados. This meeting is only open to members of the Society.

Other meetings during the season will include: South Australia postal history; Orange Free State postal stationery; classic revenues of the British West Indies; St Helena, Ascension and Tristan da Cunha; Fiji; Jamaica; Pakistan; Czechoslovakia; and Chinese International Airmails. For those whose interests focus nearer to home, there will be presentations of Great Britain line-graved plate repairs, Great Britain railway station cancellations, and Channel Islands Occupation. In addition there will be afternoon displays by the Académie de Philatélie of France, by Society members living in London and Surrey, and on Scouting around the World.

The meetings are held at the premises of The Royal Philatelic Society London at 41 Devonshire Place, London W1G 6JY, and comprise either an afternoon display from 1pm, or an evening presentation starting at 5pm. Those wishing to visit the Society, or be a guest at one of its meetings, are asked to contact the Administrative Office (020 7486 1044).
