The Following Notices Were Issued From the Office of the Postmaster General

FRANK C. WALKER, POSTMASTER GENERAL

ESTABLISHING THE OFFICE OF BUDGET AND ADMINISTRATIVE PLANNING AND THE OPERATIONS BOARD

So that the work of the Post Office Department and the Postal Establishment may be further coordinated and its operations further integrated, effective July 1, 1942, it is ordered that:

The Office of Budget and Administrative Planning, a Director of Budget and Administrative Planning, a Commissioner of the Budget, and a Commissioner of Administrative Planning are hereby constituted and established effective July 1, 1942, in the immediate Office of the Postmaster General.

The Office of Budget and Administrative Planning shall be supervised by the Director, who, together with the Commissioner of the Budget, and the Commissioner of Administrative Planning, shall be directly responsible to the Postmaster General.

There is hereby established the Operations Board which will absorb the functions and membership of the Wartime Board. The members of the Operations Board shall consist of the present members of the Wartime Board, the Director of Budget and Administrative Planning, the Commissioner of the Budget, the Commissioner of Administrative Planning, and such other postal officials as the Postmaster General may from time to time designate. The Director of Budget and Administrative Planning shall serve as Chairman of the Operations Board.

While the Office of Budget and Administrative Planning will be fully charged with the budgeting, administrative and management planning activities that are an integral part of the Postmaster General's responsibilities, the Operations Board will make more readily available to that Office the knowledge and experience of the key personnel of the Post Office Department, and at the same time facilitate the interchange of ideas and the handling of problems relating to these major departmental units and the general business of the Postal Establishment.

The various bureaus and offices of the Department will deal with the Office of Budget and Administrative Planning on all budgetary accounting matters, on new activities and procedures, and on proposed changes in operating and management procedures. The Office of Budget and Administrative Planning and the Operations Board will be the channel through which all such matters in the first instance will be coordinated and passed to the Postmaster General.

The functions of the Operations Board shall be:

1. To see to it that continued and coordinated consideration is given to relevant factors in over-all postal operations and that unity of policy and operations are assured by the effective coordination of the activities of the several Bureaus and Offices of the Postal Establishment.

2. To consider and recommend to the Postmaster General measures to be taken or functions to be performed which are essential to the effective handling of the business of the Postal Establishment.

3. To carry out all the functions heretofore performed by the Wartime Board.

4. To perform such other functions as the Postmaster General may from time to time direct.

The functions of the Office of Budget and Administrative Planning are reflected in the duties of the officials of that Office, which shall be as follows:

11. To perform such other duties as the Postmaster General may from time to time direct.

MAIL SERVICE FOR OUR ARMED FORCES

V-Mail Service Inaugurated

Mail to and from our armed forces is the joint responsibility of the Post Office, War, and Navy Departments. The Post Office Department is responsible for the domestic dispatch and handling of mail throughout the United States Postal Service, and the War and Navy Departments are responsible for the transportation of mail between the military and naval units and the United States Postal Service. It is the responsibility of the War and Navy Departments particularly to control, direct, and supervise all shipping facilities used in ocean and air transportation to and from our Territories and bases, and to foreign countries. These general mail operations are later summarized in this statement.

As a result of cooperative planning and action by the Post Office, War, and Navy Departments in order: First, to reduce the weight and bulk of mail to and from our armed forces abroad and thus make available more space for the transportation of vital military material and, second, to provide most expeditious possible dispatch and handling of mail to and from our armed forces abroad, the Postmaster General, the Secretary of War, and the Secretary of the Navy announce the inauguration of a new Postal Service facility to be known as the "V-Mail Service."

When fully established V-Mail Service will be available for the transmission of letters without enclosures to and from our armed forces, only, outside the continental United States. It will be a service for the exclusive benefit of members of our armed forces abroad and will provide the most expeditious means for the transmission of letters between them and their parents, relatives, and friends.

Description of V-Letter

The operation of the V-Mail Service is based upon the use for correspondence only to and from our armed forces abroad of a special, standard, uniform, and distinctive V-Mail letter sheet. These letter sheets are a combination letter and envelope; each is a sheet of stationery of a standard minimum weight, grade and grain, which is so constructed and gummed as to fold into a uniform and distinctively marked envelope.

The correspondence side of the V-Mail letter sheet is so arranged as to allow the largest possible space for the message. Also there is provided a small space for the name and address of the person who is to receive the message, for the sender's name and address, and for the military censor's clearance. The message and address may be typewritten or written with dark ink or dark pencil. Nothing may be enclosed with the message.

The obverse or envelope side of the V-Mail letter sheet contains full instructions for use and is so arranged as to provide for the standard and uniform writing of the name and address of the sender and receiver of the letter, with distinctive printed markings so as to make the letter easily and promptly sorted and handled to destination. The sheet is also constructed in such a way as to provide for uniform folding and sealing.

The user of the V-Mail letter sheet should write his message, fill in the name and address of sender and receiver, fold it as indicated, seal it, affix the required postage or proper indicia and deposit it in the mail.

Because of the distinctive identification printed on the envelope and the uniformity in size, this mail will receive the most preferred and expeditious sorting and handling possible to destination. It is easily recognizable as mail to or from our armed forces abroad and will be more quickly handled and dispatched by the United States Postal Service, the Army Postal Service, and the Navy Postal Service.

To this V-Mail, because of its reduction in weight and size, and its uniform dimensions, there can be and will be accorded the most expeditious and preferred dispatch and transportation possible to destination.

Photographic Reproduction

To further expedite this V-Mail destined overseas, or from our armed forces overseas to the continental United States, where large volumes and long distances are involved, there will be inaugurated a photographic micro-filming facility in conjunction with the V-Mail Service.

V-Mail stations will be set up under the control of the military authorities for the purpose of photographing V-Mail Letters by specialized machines on 16-millimeter film. While the Post Office Department will have no jurisdiction over these V-Mail stations, it will separate V-Mail, by respective Army and Navy Post Office units, then deliver it to the military authorities operating V-Mail stations. The War and Navy Departments will then determine, based upon volume, distance, and location of other V-Mail stations or similar facilities, which Army Post Office or Naval unit V-Mail will be filmed and which Army Post Office or Naval unit V-Mail will be forwarded to destination in original form.

If the dispatch of V-Mail is to be in original form this mail will receive the most expeditious and preferred dispatch available either by fast surface vessel, by plane ferry, or by a transportation operation combining the use of both, depending upon the location, distance, and transportation facilities available to that destination.

Conservation of Shipping Space

Every possible bit of shipping weight and space must be conserved so that our armed forces will be assured that all shipping is devoted to the carrying of vital military supplies. It may be possible that in a given dispatch by convoy or bomber ferry there may be space for 1,500 pounds, or 22 sacks of mail. If the mail is V-Mail it means 150,000 letters to the men at the front; but if it is ordinary single-sheet correspondence it means approximately 87,500 letters dispatched. For example, if this dispatch had been of one letter to each man in an overseas combat command of 150,000 men, and V-Mail had been used, each man would have heard from home, while if it had been ordinary single-sheet correspondence, only 87,500 men would have heard from home, and 62,500 men would have had to wait until the next mail dispatch.

As an example of the saving of weight and space, in a dispatch of 150,000 ordinary one-sheet letters to overseas destinations, the letters will weigh 2,575 pounds and require the space and use of 37 mail sacks, whereas in a dispatch of 150,000 V-Mail letters, the letters will weigh but 1,500 pounds and require the space and use of but 22 mail sacks, thus leaving shipping available for the transportation of vital military material of 1,075 pounds and the space for 15 sacks of mail.

If there are V-Mail stations or similar facilities available at destination, the V-Mail letters will be micro-filmed, effecting a reduction to approximately 3.15 percent of their original volume and weight. As a result of this operation, 150,000 V-Mail letters, after filming, will weigh 45 pounds and occupy space for one sack of mail. The film will then be sent to destination by fast surface vessel, plane ferry, or by transportation operations combining the use of both, depending upon location, distance, and transportation facilities available to that destination.

The original of each V-Mail letter so filmed will be retained by the military authorities until it has been ascertained that the film has reached destination. After the film has reached destination the original V-Mail letters so filmed will be destroyed by the military authorities. If the film fails to arrive at destination, the V-Mail station will refile the letters and dispatch another film. In this fashion the filmed letters are given all possible assurance of reaching destination notwithstanding transportation hazards.

At destination the receiving V-Mail station will reproduce by photography and enlarge the individual messages on the film, enclose each in a specially designated War-Navy Department V-Mail penalty window envelope, and make individual delivery to the addressee in the usual manner. The addressee will receive a photograph approximately 4 by 5¼ inches of the actual message as written by the sender.

The War and Navy Departments will furnish V-Mail letter sheets without charge to members of our armed forces stationed abroad. After the message is written and sealed, it will be dispatched through Army and Navy post offices. If the V-Mail originates abroad where no filming station is in operation, it will be dispatched by the most expeditious means available in its original form. If the V-Mail originates abroad where a filming station is in operation or where similar facilities are available, the message will be filmed and transmitted through Army and Navy facilities to the nearest V-Mail station in the United States where the message on the film will be reproduced by photography, enlarged to approximately 4 by 5¼ inches, enclosed in the specially designated War-Navy Department V-Mail penalty window envelope and dispatched through the United States Postal Service to destination anywhere in the United States.

Postage Rates

V-Mail messages sent by members of our armed forces will be accepted for mailing without payment of postage, under the provisions of the act of March 27, 1942, which provides for free mail service for personal letters written by members of our armed forces, if the soldier, sailor, marine, or member of the Coast Guard writes the word "Free" in the upper right corner of the address side, and in the upper left corner, his name, rank, or rating, and the service of which he is a member, together with the return address.

Parents, relatives, and friends of members of our armed forces abroad may obtain V-Mail letter sheets at places or concerns in their locality handling stationery. They may write their messages to members of our armed forces abroad on these V-Mail letter sheets, and after addressing, folding, and sealing in the prescribed manner, and affixing the regular postage (3 cents if the sender desires domestic transportation by surface means, and 6 cents if the sender desires domestic air transportation), deposit them in any post office, street letter box, or other authorized mail depository, the V-Mail message will be expeditiously handled, dispatched, and delivered to the member of our armed forces located abroad.

After overcoming the many mechanical and organizational problems involved, the War Department has completed arrangements to use filming and reproducing stations heretofore or now being established by United Nations throughout the world, so as to take advantage of every existing facility to expedite this V-Mail to and from our armed forces stationed outside the continental United States. The size, weight, and construction of the V-Mail sheets have been fashioned so that this mail may be handled not only through V-Mail stations of the War Department, but through all similar existing filming and reproducing stations.

Because of the many operating, administrative, and technical problems involved in establishing this round-the-world V-Mail service for our armed forces, it is not possible or practicable to install all of its features simultaneously. Certain of its features are now in operation, and in orderly course the other features will come into operation as rapidly as the physical material and equipment can be manufactured, distributed, and installed.

In recent weeks 1 million V-Mail letter sheets have been sent to our armed forces outside continental United States, and the first V-Mail messages have now been received on film, and reproduced for dispatch to parents, relatives, and friends of members of our armed forces who are now receiving V-Mail letters.

Additional V-Mail letter-sheets are being dispatched and will be distributed to our armed forces abroad to the end that as rapidly as possible every member will have supplies of V-Mail letter sheets available to him for use.

V-Mail stations have been established, and, together with similar filming and reproducing stations which the War Department has already arranged to use, there are stations in various parts of the world now ready for operation.

V-Mail Letter Sheets—How Obtainable

Arrangements have been perfected and the technical matters involved have been cleared in cooperation with representatives of stationery manufacturing and distributing firms, whereby, under permits issued by the Post Office Department, firms or individuals may print for sale or free distribution V-Mail letter sheets.

A permit system is necessary in order to insure that the V-Mail letter sheets will conform exactly in every particular to what is required by the technical and mechanical operations of the service. Regulations covering the manner of obtaining a permit to print V-Mail letter sheets have been promulgated by the Postmaster General.

As it will be some weeks before V-Mail letter-sheets are available at stationers and through other private sources, and in order to make the service available to parents, relatives, and friends of members of our armed forces as promptly as possible, an initial supply of V-Mail letter-sheets has been printed through the joint collaboration of the Post Office, War, and Navy Departments. As rapidly as these sheets are printed, they are being shipped to postmasters throughout the United States. By June 15, 1942, the postmasters at the following 20 large offices will have small stocks available:

San Diego, Calif.	Kansas City, Mo.
San Francisco, Calif.	Omaha, Nebr.
Denver, Colo.	New York, N. Y.
Washington, D. C.	Raleigh, N. C.
Atlanta, Ga.	Pittsburgh, Pa.
Springfield, Ill.	Memphis, Tenn.
New Orleans, La.	San Antonio, Tex.
Portland, Maine.	Salt Lake City, Utah.
Boston, Mass.	Seattle, Wash.
Detroit, Mich.	Milwaukee, Wis.

As rapidly as possible, small stocks will be distributed to all 44,000 post offices in the United States. V-Mail letter-sheets will be available upon request at service windows in post offices or through rural letter carriers. In order to prevent waste, not more than three letter-sheets will be given any patron at one time, or on any one day.

It appears that with the wholehearted cooperation of stationers, distributors and manufacturers under permits issued by the Post Office Department, within a few weeks the public will be able to obtain its necessary supplies of V-Mail letter-sheets from firms and concerns as they now do ordinary stationery and thus promptly and completely relieve the government of the necessity of stocking supplies. Stocks will be maintained in post offices only to meet the initial needs of the service.

V-Mail letters should not be sent by the public to addressees who are not members of our armed forces, unless the addressee receives his mail through an overseas military installation. The use of V-Mail letter-sheets for correspondence by members of the public to other members of the public will only cause the correspondence to be delayed.

The V-Mail Service is an exclusive service created, established, and operated for the benefit of members of our armed forces abroad. Due to the many mechanical and operational features involved, V-Mail Service must be on an experimental basis for some time. Consideration and study is being given to its institution as a preferred service for communications to and from the members of the armed forces within the continental United States, and this extension of the service will be inaugurated if usage demonstrates it to be practicable.

The establishment of the V-Mail Service for transmission of letters between our armed forces outside continental United States, and their parents, relatives, and friends, is a further step in the collaboration which began in 1939 between the Post Office, War, and Navy Departments in providing the best possible mail service for our armed forces.

Organization of Army Postal Service

On March 19, 1940, after lengthy study by officials of the Post Office and the War Departments, an agreement was entered into between the Postmaster General and the Secretary of War which provided for an Army Postal Service to operate both during periods of peacetime field training and during war-time emergencies. The agreement clearly defined the duties and responsibilities of the two departments. Following the signing of the agreement, a field manual for the guidance of Army personnel engaged in mail handling was prepared and distributed to all Army commands.

The principal matters covered by the agreement are: the furnishing by the Army of mail transportation between the points where mail is assembled and made ready for delivery to the Army (called a postal concentration center) and the point where such mail is actually turned over to the Army (called a base post office); the maintenance by the Army of a card index for supplying the complete current addresses of military personnel; the formation of a Postal Corps manned by officers drawn from experienced postal employees; the erection by the Army at camps and posts of buildings for postal purposes in accordance with Post Office Department specifications; and the establishment in the War Department of an Army Postal Service through which all postal matters are handled by liaison with the Post Office Department.

The practicability of the agreement was tested at posts and camps following the enactment of the Selective Service Act and in the field during the Army maneuvers held in 1940 and 1941. It received its first test in overseas theaters when contingents of troops were sent to occupy the leased bases.

Under War Department regulations, the Army Postal Service is an activity of The Adjutant General's Department, and that Department has established in Washington, D. C., facilities to supervise the operation of the Army Postal Service and to maintain a continuing liaison with the Post Office Department. At each corps area and department headquarters outside of Washington, The Adjutant General's section thereof maintains liaison with local postal authorities on Army Postal Service. Nine post-office inspectors in charge have been designated as liaison with the nine corps area commanders.

Under The Adjutant General at Washington, D. C., is a postal division staffed by Army officers, most of whom are former post-office inspectors. In addition to the postal officers on duty in Washington, in The Adjutant General's Office, each Army, Army corps, Army division, and each post or camp with a personnel in excess of 5,000, has its own Army postal officer. These officers for the most part have been drawn from experienced civil postal employees.

Arrangements have been made to augment the existing corps of Army postal officers by selecting enlisted men with a postal background and then giving them a course of training in an officer candidate school. Upon graduation the candidate is commissioned a second lieutenant in the Army Postal Service.

By arrangement with the War Department, post office inspectors regularly visit at 10-day intervals every post, camp, or station in the United States of both the Army and Navy having a personnel in excess of 500. The purpose of these visits is to assist the military postal personnel in the disposition of any mail-handling problems which may arise.

In addition experienced post-office inspectors, serving both as Army officers and in civilian capacities, are now on duty with troops overseas.

Mail for our armed forces is brought together by the Post Office Department at designated post offices. There the mail for a given military force is made up to regiments or other separate military units (sometimes as small as a company). The Post Office Department then delivers the mail to the authorized representatives of the Army. Thereafter the Army Postal Service distributes the mail to smaller military units and then causes it to be delivered to the addressee.

Mail for delivery to the Army is of two classes, (1) sufficiently addressed mail, and (2) mail requiring directory service. Sufficiently addressed mail, after it has been made up by the post office to regiments or other separate military units, is called for at the base post office by an Army mail orderly who takes the mail to his headquarters and separates it to smaller military units. Orderlies from the smaller units call at such headquarters and obtain the mail. The orderly from the smaller units delivers the mail so obtained to the soldier designated as the person in charge of quarters where the addressees are located. The Charge of Quarters in turn hands the mail to the addressees at mail call or at other specified periods during the day.

Insufficiently addressed mail and mail for forwarding to transferred personnel received at a base post office is sent to the Army locator card unit to have the correct address supplied. The files of this unit consist of an index card for each soldier. This card shows the soldier's name and current address in full, his Army serial number, rank and organization, and the Army Postal Service keeps this file current, to supply promptly correct addresses on the incorrectly addressed mail. Thereafter the mail is returned to the base post office for handling through regular postal channels.

Outgoing mail from camps and posts is placed by the sender in Army collection boxes located about the camp or post from which points it is collected by mail orderlies and delivered to the base post office.

Mail for troops who have embarked for overseas destinations is distributed by the United States Postal Service to regiments and like organizations, and delivered promptly thereafter to the military authorities at the port of embarkation.

From that point on, its handling and transportation to the overseas port is directed and controlled by the Army and Navy.

The movement of mail overseas in wartime, especially into combat areas, is necessarily articulated to the movement of military supplies and reinforcements. The time when a ship or plane shall depart with mail cannot be decided by postal needs; needs of the fighting men for their mail must be compared with their needs for food, ammunition, equipment, supplies, and more troops. Moreover, the possibility of enemy action en route must be considered in determining when a ship shall sail and what route it shall follow; sometimes a vessel must travel a most roundabout course if it is to reach its destination safely. Furthermore, by the time the vessel reaches its destination the military situation may have changed, thus requiring further changes in plans, all of which may result in unavoidable delays to the mail.

In the earlier stages of overseas troop movements, some difficulty is encountered in effecting delivery of mail to troops while in process of moving to an overseas destination. When a military unit destined for overseas service moves out of a domestic camp or post, the personnel of the unit are given their overseas mail address with instructions to tell their friends and relatives to use that address thereafter. The troops then move to a camp in the vicinity of the port of embarkation, where they may remain for several days to several weeks. In order that mail for these troops will be received by them in the staging area before actual embarkation, a troop location officer of the Army advises the dispatching post office which units of the particular overseas force have embarked and which are still in the United States, so that no mail may be sent ahead of troops that have not yet embarked and are remaining temporarily in the staging area.

Organization of Navy Postal Service

Mail service for Navy personnel presents different postal operating problems, as many of the units are highly mobile.

The Secretary of the Navy has established in the Office of Naval Operations, a postal liaison. It is through this facility and the naval post offices that the mail-handling operations for Navy personnel are coordinated, directed, and supervised. This facility has on its staff former post-office inspectors.

By arrangement with the Navy Department, post-office inspectors regularly visit, at 10-day intervals, every domestic naval establishment having postal facilities. The purpose of these visits is to assist the naval postal personnel in the disposition of any mail-handling problems which may arise.

Mail service for Navy personnel on United States ships and at foreign shore stations is provided through Navy post offices which are manned by Navy mail clerks.

At domestic shore stations mail is delivered either through the United States Postal Service, a Navy post office, or by Navy mail orderlies. Where Navy mail clerks are assigned, the mail is separated by the Postal Service to naval units and given to Navy mail clerks for delivery. Where Navy mail clerks are not assigned, the delivery is made by Navy mail orderlies.

Mail for the personnel of United States ships and for the Fleet Marine Force is addressed in care of the Postmaster at New York, N. Y., or the Postmaster at San Francisco, Calif., where there are postal concentration centers for Navy mail. At these centers, the mail for ships and naval units is distributed, sacked and labeled. The mail is then delivered by Navy authorities to the respective ships and units.

Due to the war, it has become necessary to expand mail service for Navy personnel and to inaugurate methods of mail handling which will maintain the secrecy of movement and of the location of sea-going units and forces. Continuing liaison between the Navy and Post Office Departments is maintained for the purpose of devising new methods of mail handling and improving old ones in the light of changing conditions.

Postmasters and other postal employees may perform a great public service by thoroughly familiarizing themselves with the contents of this statement so that they will be in position to fully inform the public of the general mail operations for our armed forces. This statement should be given the widest possible publicity so that your community may know, understand and use the wartime mail service which is so vital to the morale of the armed forces.

JUNE 12, 1942.

FRANK C. WALKER,
Postmaster General.

V-MAIL SERVICE

ORDER No. 17791.

In cooperation with the United States War and Navy Departments, a new service known as V-Mail Service has been established to conserve transportation space and to expedite the handling of messages to and from personnel of our armed forces stationed outside the continental United States.

Persons in the United States desiring to use this service will obtain special letter-sheet ("V-Mail") envelopes at the nearest United States post office (or from private distributors at a later date), write their messages thereon and after addressing, folding and sealing the letter-sheets in the prescribed manner and affixing postage, if necessary, deposit the messages in any post office street letter box or other authorized mail depository. The letters will be dispatched by domestic air or surface transportation, according to the postage paid, to designated post offices at ports of embarkation.

The V-Mail letter may be forwarded in its original form or it may be micro-filmed and a photographic reproduction transmitted to the addressee when delivery can be expedited by so doing. The Department will separate the V-Mail by Army and Navy post office units and deliver it to the military authorities who will control and operate the V-Mail stations. The Post Office Department will have no jurisdiction over these stations. Thereafter the War and Navy Departments will decide according to the volume of the mail, the distance to destination, and the location of other V-Mail facilities which will be micro-filmed and which will be forwarded in their original form.

V-Mail Service is not intended for transmission of messages within the continental United States and patrons should be so advised. V-Mail letters mailed in this country and addressed for delivery at post offices within the United States, to Army post offices or to Navy installations in care of postmasters at offices other than New York and San Francisco, will be dispatched to destination in their original form and with the regular mails.

Members of the armed forces stationed abroad will be furnished without charge V-Mail letter-sheets through the War and Navy Departments and will deposit their V-Mail letters in designated mail depositories in Army or Navy post offices. If delivery can be advanced thereby, such letters will be micro-filmed and the film transmitted to V-Mail stations in the United States (New York and San Francisco) by the most expeditious means of transportation available; otherwise such letters will be transmitted to destination in their original form. Upon arrival in the United States, the micro-filmed messages will be reproduced, enclosed in specially designed penalty envelopes and dispatched to destination.

V-Mail letters sent by members of the armed forces will be accepted without payment of postage under the provisions of Section 515, Postal Laws and Regulations as amended March 28, 1942 (act of March 27, 1942, sec. 901, Public, No. 507, 77th Cong.).

The postage on V-Mail letters sent by others than members of the armed forces is 3 cents each when transmission to ports of embarkation by ordinary mail is desired. Such messages may be so sent as air mail at the rate of 6 cents each. Postage must be prepaid by stamps affixed.

The address on V-Mail intended for members of the armed forces stationed outside the continental United States must include the rank or rating of the addressee, the unit to which attached, and the APO or naval address through which the addressee receives mail.

An initial supply of the V-Mail letter-sheet envelopes will be furnished to postmasters at the following 20 offices for availability to the public on June 15, 1942.

San Diego, Calif.
San Francisco, Calif.
Denver, Colo.
Washington, D. C.
Atlanta, Ga.
Springfield, Ill.
New Orleans, La.
Portland, Maine
Boston, Mass.
Detroit, Mich.

Kansas City, Mo.
Omaha, Nebr.
New York, N. Y.
Raleigh, N. C.
Pittsburgh, Pa.
Memphis, Tenn.
San Antonio, Tex.
Salt Lake City, Utah.
Seattle, Wash.
Milwaukee, Wis.

Other offices will be supplied through central accounting post offices as rapidly as the letter sheets can be printed, and all other offices will make the sheets available to the public on June 20, or thereafter as received. Approximately 10 weeks will be required to complete distribution to all post offices.

No request for the initial supply of letter-sheets need be submitted by postmasters. Stationers and other private concerns will be allowed to sell or distribute similar forms after securing permits from the Department and separate instructions relative to such permits appear concurrently in the POSTAL BULLETIN. Limited additional supplies may be requisitioned from reserve stocks at central accounting post offices, but it is expected that ample quantities of V-Mail letter-sheets will later be available at stationers and other private concerns. Envelopes for enclosing the reproduced messages will be furnished the postmasters at points where V-Mail stations are maintained.

The V-Mail letter-sheets will bear no embossed postage, but central accounting postmasters must treat the letter-sheets as accountable stock in the same manner as other forms are treated and must be prepared to inform the Department at any time of the number of forms received and issued to their own and other offices for distribution and the number on hand. No accounting of forms distributed to the public will be required.

Postmasters are cautioned to conserve their supplies of V-Mail letter-sheet envelopes, and to furnish them to patrons only for use as intended. They should not be placed in lobbies but are to be furnished to patrons upon request at service windows and through rural carriers. No more than three V-Mail letter-sheet envelopes should be given any patron at one time or on any one day.

V-Mail letters, in the course of distribution, shall be made up in separate packages when there are 10 or more for 1 post office. Otherwise, distribution shall be made in the usual manner.

Postmasters will refer to the First Assistant questions relating to the following:

Clerical and miscellaneous office expenditures necessary in handling of V-Mail.

Separation, distribution, and dispatch of V-Mail in post offices.

Responsibility of the War, Navy, and Post Office Departments in performing the various phases of the service.

Treatment of unmailable and undeliverable V-Mail and correspondence relating to such matter.

Correspondence of miscellaneous nature concerning operation of V-Mail Service.

Postmasters will refer to the Third Assistant questions relating to the following:

Rates of postage and the application of the free mail privilege to V-Mail, classification, conformity in size, addressing, forwarding, and return of V-Mail.

Distribution of V-Mail letter sheets and window penalty envelopes, and (until further notice) adjustment of supplies of such stock between post offices.

Correspondence and records relating to volume of V-Mail handled through post offices and received from the War and Navy Departments for delivery after processing.

Requests for permits for printing of V-Mail letter sheets; failure to comply with permit regulations; and irregularities in V-Mail letter sheets printed under Post Office Department permits.

Postmasters will bring this new service to the attention of patrons and give it the widest publicity possible without expense to the Department. (Postal Bulletin No. 18450, June 15, 1942.)

PERMITS FOR REPRODUCTION OF V-MAIL LETTER SHEETS BY PRIVATE FIRMS OR INDIVIDUALS

ORDER NO. 17790.

"V-Mail" letter sheet envelopes for use in connection with the new service which have been established to facilitate and speed the handling of messages to and from the personnel of our armed forces stationed outside the continental United States may be printed for sale or for free distribution by private firms or individuals under the following conditions:

Firms or individuals desiring to print or reproduce the V-Mail letter sheets must make application for a permit by letter to the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Classification. Upon approval of the application, a number will be assigned the applicant and will constitute a permit. All V-Mail letter sheets printed under this permit number must be identical in style, wording, weight, grade, and grain of paper with specimens furnished or approved by the Department. This is required in order that the letter sheets may be adapted to the process of photographing the messages thereon, etc. In addition each letter sheet must bear in small type on the back or in connection with the printed instructions on the address side the wording "Post Office Department Permit No. —." The same wording must also be printed on the lower right margin of the reverse or inner side of the letter sheet. Permits will be revoked if the letter sheets printed and distributed thereunder do not conform in size and style to the specifications of the Department, and such nonconforming letter sheets will not be accepted for handling in the mails.

The V-Mail letter sheets so printed must bear no advertising matter but may be enclosed in wrappers or cartons bearing the advertising matter of the firm or individual printing or distributing them. They may be offered for sale in the same manner as other stationery or distributed free to the public or armed forces, if so desired.

V-Mail letter sheets, V-Mail letter-sheet envelopes, and the V-Mail Service are postal facilities of the United States Government, and are matters exclusively within the jurisdiction of the United States. It is essential to the operations of the V-Mail Service that V-Mail letter-sheet envelopes conform exactly to the specifications of the Post Office Department so that postal patrons may be assured that V-Mail will receive the treatment extended by the Government under the V-Mail Service. If a postmaster has good reason to believe that any person or concern is violating or evading the regulations or instructions heretofore or hereafter promulgated and issued, or that any person or concern is issuing V-Mail letter sheets or V-Mail letter-sheet envelopes which have not been printed or reproduced under a permit issued by the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Classification, or is printing or reproducing documents represented as usable through the V-Mail Service, he should report the matter promptly to the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Classification.

Postmasters should advise firms and individuals, requesting information concerning reproduction of the letter-sheet forms, of the foregoing instructions. (Postal Bulletin No. 18450, June 15, 1942.)

POSTMASTERS TO SERVE AS DEFENSE COORDINATORS

ORDER No. 17854.

The Administrator, Federal Works Agency, at the direction of the President, is undertaking the development of plans for safeguarding public buildings and their contents from subversive hostile acts and overt acts of aggression during the existing emergency. To actuate this work the Congress has passed the necessary legislation and made an appropriation available to the Public Buildings Administration, Federal Works Agency (Public Law 528, 77th Cong., approved April 28, 1942).

In a communication dated May 27, 1942, the Commissioner of Public Buildings requested us to designate the superintendent or custodian of those buildings operated by us as defense coordinator. The Commissioner of Public Buildings was advised on June 9, 1942, that postmasters would be designated as defense coordinators.

All postmasters, therefore, who are in charge of Government-owned buildings and leased or rented quarters are hereby designated to serve as defense coordinators. Please cooperate fully with this Department and the Public Buildings Administration, Protective Construction Unit, in the methods and measures to be adopted and disseminated for the protection of buildings and their contents during the period of the national emergency.

You are also requested to give all correspondence on this subject immediate attention and to answer all queries at the earliest practicable moment.

Copies of the codes on these subjects will be furnished at a later date. (Postal Bulletin No. 18455, June 26, 1942.)

LIMITS IN WEIGHT AND DIMENSIONS OF MAIL FOR DELIVERY OUTSIDE THE CONTINENTAL UNITED STATES

Shipments for Civilians in Newfoundland and Greenland (General Permit C)

ORDER No. 18109.

1. It has been represented to this Department by the State Department that civilians in Greenland are subjected to hardships by the present restrictions as to number, size, and weight of mail shipments imposed by Order No. 17471 of April 20, 1942. It has been decided, accordingly, to waive such restrictions on behalf of said civilians. In addition, because of the adequacy of available transportation facilities to Newfoundland, a similar waiver is made with respect to civilian mails to that destination. Therefore, the following are general exceptions, effective immediately:

2. Until further notice, shipments addressed to civilians in Newfoundland and Greenland are not subject to the restrictions of Order No. 17471 of April 20, 1942.

3. It will not be necessary for postmasters to endorse shipments showing acceptance under General Permit C, as the acceptance itself will be considered prima facie evidence thereof. (Postal Bulletin No. 18459, July 6, 1942.)

LIMITS IN WEIGHT AND DIMENSIONS OF MAIL FOR DELIVERY OUTSIDE THE UNITED STATES

Shipments for Switzerland (General Permit D)

ORDER NO. 18164

1. The present situation with respect to shipping space for Switzerland is not acute and does not require the application of the restrictions as to number, size, and weight of mail shipments imposed by Order No. 17471 of April 20, 1942. Therefore, the following general exception is effective immediately:

2. Until further notice, mail shipments addressed to Switzerland are not subject to the restrictions of Order No. 17471 of April 20, 1942.

3. It will not be necessary for postmasters to endorse shipments showing acceptance under General Permit D, as the acceptance itself will be considered prima facie evidence thereof. (Postal Bulletin No. 18461, July 10, 1942.)

COLLECTION OF SCRAP RUBBER

Attention of postmasters is particularly invited to the Wartime Conservation Instructions for the Postal Service as set forth in the Postal Bulletin under date of January 14, 1942.

In connection therewith it is also desired to invite attention to Circular No. 394, dated June 30, 1942, issued by the Director of the Bureau of the Budget to the heads of executive departments, independent establishments, and agencies, in which it refers to the fact that the campaign to collect scrap rubber has been extended by the President to midnight of July 10, 1942, and requesting that the Federal Government intensify its efforts in this renewed drive. The following quotation from the Bureau of the Budget's circular is quoted:

"This scrap should be turned over, without charge, to the Rubber Reserve Company or its authorized agencies in accordance with instructions to be issued by the Rubber Reserve Company. All Federal offices, agencies, and institutions throughout the country must participate.

"'Scrap Rubber' will be interpreted to include all rubber and rubber composition materials used by the agency for any purpose which is not absolutely essential. Suitable items to be turned into war use include rubber floor mats, seat mats, worn-out or superseded rubber stamps, trunk mats in Government automobiles, and similar items. I am convinced that the ingenuity of Government workers will uncover many further items which can be made available for this vital purpose."

Postmasters in charge of Federal buildings will at once survey those buildings with a view to complying with the instructions outlined in the above circular issued by the Director of the Bureau of the Budget. All surplus scrap rubber, as listed therein, will be assembled and held pending further instructions as to its disposal by the Rubber Reserve Company. Upon receipt of these instructions, postmasters are authorized to dispose of the collection of scrap rubber as directed. Prompt report shall be submitted by the postmasters to the Fourth Assistant Postmaster General, Maintenance Branch, showing action taken and shall include a complete list of the articles thus disposed of. (Postal Bulletin No. 18459, July 6, 1942.)

SCRAP RUBBER COLLECTION

The instructions published in Postal Bulletin No. 18459 of July 6, 1942, concerning the collection of scrap rubber, are amplified as follows:
The Rubber Reserve Company has designated in each State, one or more State chairmen of the Petroleum Industry Rubber Drive as agents authorized to collect scrap rubber. The State chairmen will be assigned by county chairmen and local chairmen in the larger cities.

Postmasters in charge of Federal buildings should notify the appropriate chairman when the scrap rubber is ready for delivery and he will arrange for the collection thereof. If the chairman is not known, his name may be obtained from any local officer of the Petroleum Industry.

The definition of scrap rubber as used in the foregoing bulletin is rubber articles no longer serving any useful purpose or in a worn-out condition. (Postal Bulletin No. 18462, July 13, 1942.)

RETIREMENTExtension of Retirement Privileges

Notices appeared in the Postal Bulletins of May 27 and June 19, 1942, concerning the extension of retirement privileges to special-delivery messengers at first-class offices and assistant postmasters and clerks at third-class offices, effective January 24, 1942.

The following instructions are issued to give effect to the rulings of the Civil Service Commission promulgated in accordance with the provisions in Executive Order No. 9154 issued May 1, 1942.

Retirement Status of Special-Delivery Messengers

Special-delivery messengers at first-class offices, appointed for indefinite periods or for periods in excess of 1 year and whose earnings, based on fees established by the Post Office Department, amount to as much as $20 per month, shall be considered regular employees and be subject to retirement deductions. Once a retirement status is acquired, because of the period of appointment and earnings, deductions will be taken during the period of continuous employment, even though the monthly earnings may fall below $20.

Tontine of $1 per month shall be charged against the retirement deductions of special-delivery messengers whenever any special-delivery service is performed on more than 15 days in a calendar month. If service is performed on more than 15 days in any calendar month in which the retirement deductions amount to less than $1, the total amount deducted will be charged to tontine.

Since special-delivery service is not a part of the contract of employment for classified substitutes and regular employees of the Department, special-delivery fees paid to such employees will be considered as "pay in addition to base pay" and will not be subject to retirement deductions. The earnings of a special-delivery messenger, brought under the Retirement Act because of the period of appointment and earnings from special-delivery fees, for service rendered as a temporary clerk or carrier or substitute rural carrier are subject to retirement deductions.

Any service rendered as a special-delivery messenger at a first-class office, compensation for which was based upon fees established by the Post Office Department, is creditable for retirement purposes for an employee within the purview of the Retirement Act, whether rendered before or after January 24, 1942.

Retirement Status of Assistant Postmasters and Clerks at Third-Class Post Offices

Assistant postmasters and clerks at third-class offices appointed for indefinite periods or for periods in excess of 1 year, and whose pay from funds authorized by the Post Office Department for Clerk Hire, Separating Mails, and Unusual Conditions, amounts to as much as $20 per month, shall be considered regular employees and be subject to retirement deductions. Once a retirement status is acquired because of the period of appointment and monthly earnings, deductions will be taken during the period of continuous employment, even though the monthly rate of compensation may fall below $20.

Tontine of $1 per month shall be charged against the retirement deductions of assistant postmasters and clerks at third-class offices for each calendar month in which the compensation received exceeds one-half the regular monthly pay rate. Any calendar month in which the compensation amounts to more than one-half the regular monthly pay rate and the retirement deductions amount to less than $1, the total amount deducted will be charged as tontine.

Any service rendered as an assistant postmaster or clerk at a third-class office, compensation for which is paid from amounts authorized by the Post Office Department, is creditable for retirement purposes for an employee within the purview of the Retirement Act, regardless of whether such service was rendered before or after January 24, 1942, and regardless of the rate of pay.

The earnings of an assistant postmaster or clerk at a third-class office, brought under the Retirement Act because of the period of appointment and monthly earnings, for service rendered as a substitute rural carrier are subject to retirement deductions. Compensation paid from the personal funds of a postmaster is not subject to retirement deductions, and any such compensation will be disregarded in determining the retirement status of employees and in the computation of annuities.

Only 95 percent of the gross allowances for Clerk Hire, Separating Mails, and Unusual Conditions may be paid to employees coming within the purview of the Retirement Act.

Deductions and Creditable Service

Retirement deductions are mandatory. On and after July 1, 1942, 5 percent shall be deducted from all earnings or compensation subject to retirement deductions. Retirement deductions not timely taken prior to July 1, 1942, will be adjusted by the Civil Service Commission upon receipt of formal claims from the employees concerned. An employee brought under the act on January 24, 1942, or between that date and July 1, 1942, will not be eligible to receive an annuity until such time as a deposit has been made to cover the deductions applicable to that period.

Creditable service for the period between January 24 and July 1, 1942, as well as creditable service prior to January 24, 1942, may be established through the filing of a claim therefor on Form 3012, which should be forwarded, after execution, to the Civil Service Commission, Retirement Division, Washington, D. C.

General Instructions and Information

The automatic retirement age for all employees is 70 years, with 15 years' creditable service. An employee who has less than 15 years' creditable service may be retained until the end of the month in which the total service amounts to as much as 15 years. Optional retirement is permissible at the age of 60 with not less than 30 years' creditable service, and at the age of 62 with not less than 15 years' creditable service. Optional retirement, at a reduced annuity, is permissible at the age of 55 with not less than 30 years' creditable service.

Any employee who has reached the age of 70 and whose total creditable service amounts to as much as 15 years should be retired for age at the close of business July 31, 1942. All retirements, or separations from the service for other causes, should be reported to the Bureau of Accounts on Form 1551. Third-class offices having need therefor should obtain Forms 1551 from their central accounting offices. The present supply of this form is limited and requisitions should be held to the minimum requirements. Instructions relative to the use of this form do not apply to those first-class offices which maintain their own retirement records, nor to those which have received special instructions for the handling of retirement records.

At those first-class offices which maintain their own retirement records, a Form 2806 should be originated and placed with the others on file for each appointee brought within the purview of the Retirement Act. All other offices, except those which may have received special instructions, should report appointments to the Bureau of Accounts on Forms 2806 (first-class offices) or special forms provided for that purpose (third-class offices).

All changes in name, by marriage or otherwise, showing the effective date, should be recorded on the individual cards or reported to the bureau or office having custody of the retirement records. Proper notification will be furnished all offices whose retirement records are not maintained in the Retirement Division of the Bureau of Accounts of the Post Office Department. Absence of any employee, within the purview of the Retirement Act, for more than 6 months in any calendar year, including absence on Military Leave, should be recorded on the retirement record, or reported to the bureau or office having custody of the individual cards, Forms 2806. Notification should be furnished the Bureau of Accounts of all transfers of employees under the Retirement Act from any office or position in the postal service to any other office or position within the service. Transfers to other branches or agencies of the Government should be reported as separations.

Revised accounts and vouchers will be furnished, without requisition for recording and reporting salary payments and retirement deductions applicable to the September quarter, 1942. Until such time as the revised forms are received, payments should be made to those employees within the purview of the act on the basis of 95 percent of their gross compensation. The forms now in use, appropriately endorsed, may be used to obtain temporary receipts for salary payments. Upon receipt of the revised accounts and vouchers, any obsolete forms used to obtain temporary receipts should be returned to the employees concerned, at which time their receipts should be secured on the revised forms.

Numerous inquiries have been received concerning various features of the act of January 24, 1942 and the Executive order of May 1, 1942 which extended retirement privileges to special delivery messengers at first-class offices and assistant postmasters and clerks at third-class offices. Any inquiry not satisfactorily answered in the foregoing instructions should be made the subject of further correspondence, which should be addressed to the Bureau of Accounts, Post Office Department, Washington, D. C. (Postal Bulletin No. 18461, July 10, 1942.)

Extension of Privileges

Reference is made to the notice in the Bulletin of May 27, 1942, under this same subject concerning retirement privileges for clerks at third-class post offices and special-delivery messengers at first-class post offices. Postmasters are hereby advised that deductions from earnings of clerks at third-class post offices and special-delivery messengers at first-class post offices will be made only on and after July 1, 1942, at 5 percent.

All service rendered prior to July 1, 1942, for which retirement deductions were not made from earnings is claimable by each individual concerned for total service credit, and may be purchased by paying in what would have been deducted from earnings prior to July 1, 1942, and subsequent to August 1, 1920.

More complete instructions on this subject will be issued soon. (Postal Bulletin No. 18452, June 19, 1942.)

NEW SALARY TABLES, FORM 1550 P/O

Postmasters and others are advised that new salary tables throughout the range of postal compensation, on the basis of payment at 95 percent from July 1, 1942, in accordance with the new retirement law, are nearing completion. All will be provided with the information without making inquiry to the Department in the interval. (Postal Bulletin No. 18451, June 17, 1942.)

SPECIAL-DELIVERY SCHEDULES AT FIRST-CLASS OFFICES

Postmasters at first-class offices are requested to submit Form 1906 (Special Delivery Schedules) in duplicate hereafter, beginning with their quarterly postal accounts for the June quarter 1942. This is in addition to all other abstracts now required in duplicate. (Postal Bulletin No. 18455, June 26, 1942.)

IMPROPER FORWARDING OF INSUFFICIENTLY ADDRESSED MAIL FOR THE ARMED FORCES TO THE WAR DEPARTMENT MAIL ROOM, WASHINGTON, D. C.

It has come to the Department's attention that many postmasters are forwarding quantities of insufficiently addressed mail for members of the armed forces to the War Department mail room, Washington, D. C.

This practice should be discontinued immediately and such mail treated the same as other insufficiently addressed mail. (Postal Bulletin No. 18456, June 29, 1942.)

DIVISION OF INTERNATIONAL POSTAL SERVICE

SHIPMENTS BY MAIL TO FOREIGN COUNTRIES OF ARTICLES AND MATERIALS UNDER CONTROL OF THE BOARD OF ECONOMIC WARFARE

Reference is made to the announcement appearing under the above caption in The Postal Bulletin of May 20, 1942, and on pages 8 to 11, inclusive, of the June Supplement to the Postal Guide, relative to the licensing requirements for the exportation by mail of articles and materials addressed for delivery abroad.

It has been brought to the attention of this Department that the instructions set forth in the above-mentioned notice have not been strictly adhered to by mailing offices in the acceptance of parcel-post packages; that is, parcels are being accepted without requiring the sender to endorse the license number on the wrapper.

In order to assist mailing offices in the handling of such matter and to simplify the instructions published, the following cardinal points are to be observed:

1. No parcel-post package addressed for delivery to a foreign country is to be accepted for mailing unless it bears on its face the proper export license number.

2. If the parcel is to be mailed under an individual license, the accepting clerk at the office of mailing is to check the contents and value described on the customs declaration (Form 2966) and on the Shippers Export Declaration (Commerce Form 7525) against the description in the Export License.

3. If the parcel is to be mailed under an unlimited license (as indicated by the endorsement "Unlimited License No. 00"), a Release Certificate must be presented by the mailer and taken up by the Postmaster. (See Section 3 of Notice May 20, 1942.)

4. If the parcel is to be mailed under a Special License the mailer must exhibit a photostatic copy of the license. (See Section 4 of Notice May 20, 1942.)

In the case of partial shipments made under an individual license, the accepting employee is to take up the license, endorsing on the back thereof the actual quantity and value of the shipment. The license is to be retained by the Postmaster for future partial shipments by the licensee so that it can be ascertained the total quantity will not exceed that indicated in the license. If the licensee does not wish to make additional shipments under the license, it should be endorsed accordingly by the Postmaster and returned to the Office of Exports, Board of Economic Warfare, Washington, D. C.

Attention is directed to the fact that no individual license is valid after the expiration of six (6) months. (Postal Bulletin No. 18463, July 15, 1942.)

SUSPENSION OF MAIL SERVICE TO MALAY STATES (FEDERATED AND NONFEDERATED) NETHERLANDS INDIES, NORTH BORNEO, SARAWAK, AND STRAITS SETTLEMENTS

Effective at once, and until further notice, the mail service (surface and air) to Malay States (Federated and Non-Federated), Netherlands Indies, North Borneo, Sarawak, and Straits Settlements is suspended.

Any mail that may be posted for the countries mentioned will be sent as usual to the proper United States exchange office, which office has been appropriately, instructed with respect to the disposition to be made of such mail. (Postal Bulletin No. 18451, June 17, 1942.)

MAILS FOR CANADIAN ARMED FORCES

All mail addressed to the personnel of the Canadian armed forces should be sent into the Canadian Postal Service for routing to the Base Post Office at Ottawa, Canada. (Postal Bulletin No. 18449, June 12, 1942.)

GIFT PACKAGES ADDRESSED FOR DELIVERY IN THE UNITED KINGDOM MAY NOT BE SENT MORE THAN ONCE A MONTH WHEN MAILED BY THE SAME SENDER TO THE SAME ADDRESSEE

Reference is made to paragraphs 3 to 5, inclusive, under the subheading "Observations" of the item "Parcel post—(Great Britain and Northern Ireland)" on page 177 of Part II of the Official Postal Guide relative to the regulations permitting under certain conditions the importation into the United Kingdom without import licenses of bona fide unsolicited gift packages not exceeding 5 pounds gross weight.

It is pointed out that gift parcels sent too frequently are not accorded the benefit of the above-mentioned regulations but may be retained by the British authorities in the United Kingdom, resulting in disappointment to the sender and addressee. Parcels sent more often than once each calendar month are considered as being sent too frequently and not entitled to the benefit of the regulations in question.

Postmasters are directed to cause due notice to be taken of the foregoing and to advise those concerned that noncompliance therewith will result in the retention of their parcels upon receipt in the United Kingdom. (Postal Bulletin No. 18452, June 19, 1942.)

B

PRISONERS OF WAR—INTERNEED CIVILIANS

Export License Requirements Apply

Reference is made to notice appearing on page 15 of the May Supplement, under the above caption, regarding the regulations governing mails and parcels addressed to prisoners of war and for detained or interned civilians.

With respect to such mails and parcels the attention of all postmasters is directed to the fact that the licensing requirements for shipments by mail to foreign countries of articles and materials under control of the Board of Economic Warfare, as set forth in notices published on page 16 of the May and page 8 of the June Supplements, are applicable thereto. (Postal Bulletin No. 18444, June 1, 1942.)

The Following Notices Were Issued From the Bureau of the Third Assistant Postmaster General

RAMSEY S. BLACK, THIRD ASSISTANT

DIVISION OF CLASSIFICATION

TRANSMISSION IN MAELS FREE OF POSTAGE OF LETTERS FROM MEMBERS OF UNITED STATES MILITARY AND NAVAL FORCES

Numerous questions have been raised as to what may or may not be mailed free of postage by members of the military or naval forces of the United States (including the United States Coast Guard) under paragraphs 3 and 4, amended section 515, Postal Laws and Regulations, as embodied in Order No. 17352 of the Postmaster General published in the Postal Bulletin of April 1, 1942, and this notice is, therefore, issued for the purpose of clarifying these matters.

Such free-mail privilege is applicable only to personal letter mail in its usual and generally accepted form, including messages on post cards, sent by the members of our armed forces. This provision is primarily for the purpose of making it easier for our men in the service to keep in touch with their families and friends. It does not apply to correspondence from their wives or other relatives, nor to any matter sent to members of the military or naval forces by persons who are not members of such forces.

It is required that the name of the sender, his rank or rating, the designation of the service to which he belongs, and the word "Free" be in the handwriting of the sender on the envelopes or cards, in order to be accepted free of postage. This is necessary to prevent misuse and to confine the free mailing privilege to personal letters of members of the military or naval forces. The approved address of the member should, of course, be included in the return card.

Among items acceptable free of postage are the following:

- Personal letters to relatives, friends, etc., including V-Mail.
- Letters, including remittances, to associations, firms, or corporations.
- Letters sent as special delivery, provided the fee for such service is prepaid.
- Small photographic negatives and unmounted prints when accompanying letters.
- Souvenir and pictorial cards, unless bearing matter of a promotional character.
- Greeting cards such as Mother's Day, birthday, seasonable, etc., inclosed in envelopes.
- Election ballots.
- Letters mailed while the sender is on furlough.
- Letters sent by the midshipmen of the United States Naval Academy, the cadets of the United States Military Academy, and the cadets of the United States Coast Guard Academy.
- Letters sent by retired or Reserve naval and Army officers who have been recalled to active duty, including those bearing the designation "U. S. N. Ret." or "U. S. N. R." in connection with the name and rank or rating of such officer on active duty.
- Letters sent by members of the armed forces while in hospitals.
- Letters from members of the armed forces who may be assigned to some special active duty.
- Letters from nurses and chaplains who are members of the armed forces.

The free mail privilege does not apply to the following:

- Air mail.
- Registered, insured, or c. o. d. mail.
- Parcels or packages, whether sealed or unsealed.
- Newspapers, magazines, and books.
- Circular letters.
- Newspaper clippings, and printed or mimeographed matter, unless enclosed with letters and forming only an incidental feature.
- Cards exceeding the post-card size consisting mainly of cartoons or other printed matter.
- Pictorial folders.
- Envelopes and cards containing extraneous printed matter, stickers, etc., on the face.
- Matter sent for philatelic purposes.
- Merchandise.
- Wedding invitations or announcements.
- Phonograph records.
- Photographic films sent for development.
- Large mounted photographs.
- Letters of officers' clubs and other organizations.
- Cards and envelopes bearing advertisements or other inscriptions giving the names of the donors.
- Letters from persons in veterans' hospitals who are not members of the armed forces.
- Letters, bills, and circulars pertaining to the private business or profession carried on by a member of the armed forces.
- Envelopes or cards endorsed by a member of the armed forces for use by others, such as members of his family, etc.

Should question arise as to the application of this free mailing privilege in any instance, the facts should be reported to the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Classification, for instructions. (Postal Bulletin No. 18461, July 10, 1942.)

MAILING OF BOOKS AT POSTAGE RATE OF 3 CENTS A POUND

In connection with the act of June 30, 1942 (embodied in par. 3, sec. 561, and pars. 5 and 6, sec. 572, Postal Laws and Regulations, as amended by Order No. 18100 published in the July 1, 1942, issue of the Postal Bulletin), which increased the postage rate on books from 1½ cents to 3 cents a pound or fraction thereof, the following instructions are issued for the guidance of all concerned.

Although this law extends the new rate to books consisting of reading matter with incidental blank spaces for students' notations, such rate does not apply to any other publications not previously acceptable at the former rate of 1½ cents a pound.

The provision for the acceptance at the rate of 3 cents a pound of books with incidental blank spaces applies only to textbooks which are intended for students and which do not have more than one-half, preferably less than half, of the total number of pages prepared with blank spaces or ruled lines for the insertion of students' notations. This rate does not apply after such notations are made in the books.

The new rate does not apply to the following:

Annual reports of organizations and institutions; also reports or minutes of their conventions or other meetings published primarily for the benefit of members.

Books containing write-ups, boosts or other advertisements, even though incidental, of other things than books, as, for instance, playing cards, merchandise, services, etc.

Books of the loose-leaf binder type which are not complete or permanent when mailed but to which other pages are subsequently to be added.

Reports of corporations sent to stockholders.

House organs, including publications designed to promote the commercial interests of a firm or organization.

Trade directories in which the listings are paid for.

Telephone directories.

Publications entered as second-class matter.

Publications consisting of pictures to be cut out.

Publications other than textbooks, having blank spaces for written entries, records, or other hand work, such as almanacs, diaries, memorandum books and similar publications.

Periodical publications.

Sheet music.

Bound volumes of publications entered as second-class matter.

Promotional publications of nonprofit organizations or institutions, such as schools, colleges, churches, fraternal societies, etc.

Books in any other than final or permanent form.

Publications furnished as a part of a service.

Publications relating to furniture, household articles, decorations, etc., in which reference is made by name to the concerns manufacturing or handling the article featured, or which otherwise promote the interests of such concerns.

Freight and passenger tariffs.

Directories or lists of members published in the interest of the organizations publishing the same.

Among the publications to which the new book rate does apply, the following are mentioned:

Textbooks with incidental blank spaces for students' notations.

Books permanently bound by stitching or stapling, or by means of spiral or plastic binding, when covered with paper, cloth, leather, or other substantial material, and having 24 or more pages, of which at least 22 are printed.

Books incidentally containing a few pages of announcements of other books, either in display or textual form.

Books inclosed in the usual paper jackets bearing advertisements of other books.

Music books in regular bound form.

Books consisting largely of pictures, illustrations, maps, such as a view book or atlas.

Bibles with customary incidental space for family record.

All parcels of books mailed at the new rate should be indorsed by the mailers "Book" or "Books."

No special permit is necessary to mail books at the new rate. Books mailed at this rate are subject to the same rate when forwarded to the addressee or returned to the sender.

The 3-cent-a-pound book rate applies to books for delivery in the United States and its possessions but does not apply to books mailed to foreign countries.

The following are permissible inclosures with books mailed at the new rate:

A reply envelope, post card, a single order form, and a single sheet not larger than approximately the size of a page, relating exclusively to the book with which inclosed. An invoice showing the price, etc., of the book may also be inclosed, as provided in section 574, Postal Laws and Regulations.

Since the law provides that books mailed at the rate of 3 cents a pound may contain incidental announcements of books, such announcements, whether appearing in the books themselves or in the form of loose circular inclosures not weighing in excess of one and one-third ounces, will be permissible in addition to the inclosures described in the preceding paragraph, without affecting the postage chargeable at that rate, such postage, of course, to be computed on the full weight of each parcel. However, loose inclosures of this kind weighing in excess of one and one-third ounces and other circulars or printed matter such as folders, pamphlets, calendars, catalogs, etc., which would not otherwise be permissible may be inclosed in parcels of books, provided a permit is obtained and postage on such inclosures is paid at the third-class rate of 1½ cents for each two ounces or fraction thereof in addition to the postage at 3 cents a pound on the books themselves. In authorizing these inclosures, it is contemplated that they shall be merely incidental, in no case exceeding eight ounces. The wrapper of the parcel in such case should bear a printed or hand stamped indorsement in the following form:

"Additional Postage at the Third-Class Rate Paid for Inclosures.
New York, N. Y., Permit No. 1."

Each patron desiring to mail such inclosures with books should obtain a permit from his postmaster for this privilege, the permits being numbered consecutively, for which no fee shall be charged, unless it is desired to mail the matter under a nonmetered permit under section 579, and the patron has no such permit, in which event the regular $10 application fee will be necessary.

The foregoing instructions modify those heretofore published with respect to the acceptance of books at the pound rate. (Postal Bulletin No. 18461, July 10, 1942.)

BUSINESS REPLY VICTORY LABELS

In order to conserve paper, some concerns are distributing Business Reply Victory Labels for use in lieu of business reply envelopes or cards. The labels, 2 by 2 inches in size, bear the words "Business Reply Victory Label" at the top and a circle in the upper right corner with the words "No Postage Stamp Necessary If Mailed in the United States." The other indicia required on business reply cards and envelopes also appear on the labels, including the short heavy lines along the right edge.

Until otherwise instructed letters or cards bearing such labels may be treated as business reply cards or letters as provided by section 510, P. L. and R. (Postal Bulletin No. 18460, July 8, 1942.)

DIVISION OF MONEY ORDERS

OUT-OF-TOWN MONEY ORDERS IN PAYMENT OF GOVERNMENT OBLIGATIONS

Checks on Postmaster's Money-order Credit To Be Used

The attention of postmasters is called to the proper manner of reimbursing other postmasters for cashing out-of-town money orders payable to or endorsed by officers of the Federal Government under the instructions in the POSTAL BULLETIN of March 12, 1942.

BANK CHECKS OR CURRENCY SHOULD NOT BE USED IN REIMBURSING A POSTMASTER WHO HAS CASHED SUCH A MONEY ORDER. A check should be drawn on the money-order credit with the Treasurer of the United States for the face value of the money order in favor of the postmaster from whom the money order was received.

A postmaster who needs a check for this purpose but has no credit, should write at once to the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Money Orders, for a special check, and he should not fail to state the amount for which the check is to be drawn and the name of the post office to which it is to be sent. (See sec. 1512 of the Postal Laws and Regulations of 1940.) (Postal Bulletin No. 18452, June 19, 1942.)

MONEY ORDER SERVICE WITH THE FRENCH LEVANT RESUMED

Effective July 1, 1942, the transaction of international money-order business between the United States and the French Levant (Syria, Lebanon, Latakia, and Jebel Druze) will be resumed.

Postmasters and employees assigned to the issue of international money orders will take note of the foregoing and will accept applications for and issue money orders for payment in the French Levant in the usual manner. Until further notice the amounts deposited for the purchase of money orders payable in the French Levant will be converted from United States to foreign currency at the rate of 46 cents equals 1 Lebanese pound, using table No. 135, in Pamphlet 6749-a.

The advice, coupon and canceled original order must be dispatched to the New York Exchange Office in accordance with instructions appearing in table 3, page 3, of Form XIV, except that the amounts will be stated in both United States dollars and Lebanese pounds.

The amounts of money orders issued in the French Levant will be paid in this country by means of orders reissued by the New York Exchange Office and should be treated in the same manner as the reissued orders representing remittances from other countries. (Postal Bulletin No. 18455, June 26, 1942.)

MONEY ORDERS FOR REPUBLIC OF HONDURAS LIMITED TO $10.00

A communication has been received from the Director General of Posts of the Republic of Honduras in which it is stated that because of conditions resulting from the war it is necessary to restrict the transfer of funds by means of money orders. Effective immediately, therefore, in Honduras not more than $10 will be paid on a single money order.

Postmasters and employees assigned to the issue of international money orders will take due notice of the foregoing and will inform intending remitters that a money order will not be issued for payment in Honduras for more than $10. (Postal Bulletin No. 18451, June 17, 1942.)

DIVISION OF POSTAL SAVINGSWAR SAVINGS BONDS*Rural Carriers to Accept Applications

Postmasters from whose offices rural routes emanate shall arrange immediately to have rural carriers accept applications for War Savings bonds on Form 920. The purchasers will pay for the bonds at the time of making application. Payment may be made in cash or War Savings stamps, or by check. The carrier will give receipt for the purchase price, using Form 6387 (money order receipt). The carrier shall enter on the corresponding receipt stub the name of the purchaser, the amount collected, and a notation showing that the collection is "for War Savings Bonds"; and shall endorse the number of the receipt on the application for bonds. The postmaster shall receipt the carrier for the collection, on the receipt stub. Separate receipt books will not be used for these collections, but carriers will issue the receipt from the receipts books in use for money orders.

Carriers should be instructed that applications for War Savings bonds must be legible and must show all details called for by the application form. If the issued bond is to be returned to the person and address shown on the application, no further directions will be required. If supplemental instructions for disposition of the issued bond are considered necessary, a separate letter should accompany the application.

Postmasters at bond issuing offices will issue the bonds for applications received through their rural carriers, and arrange for delivery of the issued bonds as directed by the purchasers. Ordinarily, the bonds will be returned to the patrons by hand of the rural carriers, and in each such case the carrier will obtain receipt of the patron for the bond on the back of the receipt stub (Form 6387), this receipt to show the serial number of the bond and date delivered. Where necessary, or when desired by the patron, the bond may be delivered by official registered mail.

Each application received through a rural carrier at an office not authorized to issue bonds will be sent by the postmaster, with the corresponding remittance, to the proper central savings-bond depository postmaster by official registered mail. The registry number of the remittance letter, and date thereof, shall be recorded on the back of the receipt stub (Form 6387) held by the carrier. The registry receipt from the window registration book (Form 3805) shall be endorsed on the back to show contents of the letter and nature of the remittance (as, currency, $-----; redeemed War Savings stamps, $-----; or check, $-----) and the name of the patron whose application is enclosed. The registry receipt, endorsed as outlined, shall be held by the postmaster as his record of disposition of the remittance.

War Savings stamps received in payment for bonds in these transactions must be canceled before forwarding to the central savings-bond depository offices, as outlined on page 13 of the March 1942 Supplement to the Postal Guide.

Postmasters at central savings-bond depository offices will issue bonds for such applications and send them by official registered mail to addresses given by the purchasers.

Any fourth-class post office not now designated to issue War Savings bonds will be so designated upon request of the postmaster. This should be done where there is substantial demand for these bonds. Requests for such designation should be directed to the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Postal Savings.

Reprints of this notice will be sent to all central savings-bond depositories and it is requested that one copy be sent to every fourth-class tributary office having one or more rural routes. A small supply of Form 920 should be included to such offices not now designated to issue bonds. (Postal Bulletin No. 18448, June 10, 1942.)

WAR SAVINGS BONDS

Information as to Volume of Sales

In connection with the campaign of the Treasury Department for the sale of War Savings Bonds, a notice under the above caption was published in the Postal Bulletin of May 8, 1942, authorizing postmasters to furnish to State administrators of the War Savings staff or their authorized representatives, as well as to certain other designated agencies, periodic reports containing current information as to the sale of War Savings Bonds. The Department is advised that in some instances representatives of the War Savings staff are having difficulty in securing sales figures from postmasters. The difficulty in part is due to the fact that in certain localities State administrators and their representatives are requesting information in addition to that authorized in the bulletin notice.

The bulletin notice authorizes quarter-monthly reports of bond sales and postmasters are directed to furnish this information as outlined in the Postal Bulletin of May 8 covering the sales of their own offices. Central savings-bond accounting postmasters shall not report for their district offices and postmasters shall not comply with requests for information beyond that specifically authorized. (Postal Bulletin No. 18453, June 22, 1942.)

WAR SAVINGS BONDS

Monthly Reports to be Sent to Chicago

Most of the fiscal service of the Treasury Department engaged on savings-bond work and the employees of the Division of Postal Savings of this Department that take part in the joint operation of counting, tabulating, and checking stubs of sold, spoiled, and canceled bonds will move to Chicago about the middle of June.

Accordingly, starting with reports for May, postmasters at first- and second-class offices shall mail Forms 904, with abstracts, stubs, and spoiled bonds, to "Savings Bond Examiners (Postal Section), Merchandise Mart Building, Chicago, Ill." The instructions in circular letter 1120, dated January 26, 1942, concerning packing and shipping should be observed, except as to the address. The reports for May should be mailed so as to reach Chicago not before June 18, but those for June and subsequent months should be mailed as soon after the close of the month as practicable.

After the mechanical count of stubs has been completed in Chicago, Forms 904 and abstracts will be transmitted to this Department for further checking. Postmasters at central savings-bond depository offices should continue to send the monthly abstract of funds received from direct-accounting postmasters, Form 919, to the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Postal Savings, Washington, D. C., and postmasters should continue to use the Washington address for all correspondence concerning War savings bonds and savings-bond accounts, except that replies to letters received from the Chicago Branch of the Division of Postal Savings should be sent to the Chicago address.

Postmasters having a supply of sticker labels, Form 907A, printed Washington, D. C., shall withdraw these from use and treat them as waste. (Postal Bulletin No. 18443, May 29, 1942.)

DIVISION OF REGISTERED MAILS

OFFICIAL FREE REGISTERED MAIL

Statistical Reports

Registered mailings of the matter listed below mailed under penalty envelopes or labels of the Post Office Department or Postal Service are to be included as official free registrations, under separate items, in the annual report on Card Form 3848 for the fiscal year 1943. All postmasters will take the necessary steps to record such mailings made on and after July 1, 1942, so that they may be in position to furnish the information desired:

- War savings bonds.
- War savings stamps.
- Motor vehicle tax stamps.
- Documentary stamps.
- Migratory bird stamps.
- Civil Service matter mailed under sec. 1211, par. 5, P. L. & R.

Commencing July 1, 1942, postmasters will discontinue making monthly reports to central savings bond depository post offices of registered mailings of war savings bonds. Central savings bond depository post offices will discontinue making such reports to the Third Assistant Postmaster General (Division of Registered Mails). (Postal Bulletin No. 18445, June 3, 1942.)

DIVISION OF STAMPS

WIN THE WAR POSTAGE STAMP

Postmasters and employees of the Postal Service are hereby advised of the issuance of a special 3-cent WIN THE WAR postage stamp, which was first placed on sale at the Washington, D. C., post office, on July 4, 1942. It is intended that this stamp shall displace the 3-cent National Defense stamp as soon as remaining stocks thereof in post offices and in the Department are exhausted.

The WIN THE WAR stamp is 0.75 by 0.87 inch in dimensions, arranged vertically. It is printed in purple by the rotary process and issued in sheets of 100. The central design is a reproduction of the American eagle with wings outstretched in the form of a large V. Encircling the eagle are 13 stars, and in a curved panel with dark background, imposed on the design, is the inscription "WIN THE WAR." The denomination designation "3¢" is shown in two places below the design, at the left and the right, and across the bottom of the stamp is the inscription "UNITED STATES POSTAGE." All lettering is in white gothic.

Postmasters at all direct and central-accounting post offices will submit an initial requisition on form 3201-A, endorsed "Win the War," for a limited supply of the new stamp. As soon as sufficient stock is available, regular requisitions for 3-cent stamps will be filled, unless otherwise requested, with the WIN THE WAR stamps, making it unnecessary for postmasters to submit special requisitions therefor. Postmasters at district-accounting post offices will obtain needed quantities of the new stamp by requisition on the central-accounting office. Central-accounting postmasters will see that supplies of WIN THE WAR stamps are sent to every district post office in their territory at the earliest possible date. (Postal Bulletin No. 18446, June 5, 1942.)

CHINA COMMEMORATIVE STAMP

Postmasters and employees of the Postal Service are hereby advised of the issuance of a 5-cent postage stamp to commemorate the fifth anniversary of the resistance of the Chinese people to Japanese aggression, and as a tribute to the efforts of China to preserve the principles of free government for its people.

The stamp is $\frac{8}{100}$ by $1\frac{4}{100}$ inches in dimensions, arranged horizontally. It is printed in blue by the rotary process and issued in sheets of 50. In the upper left corner, arranged in an oval frame, is a portrait of Abraham Lincoln, and in a like arrangement in the upper right corner is a portrait of Dr. Sun Yat-sen, the first president of the Chinese Republic. Between the portraits is a contour map of China, on the lower edge of which is superimposed a design of the sun, with triangular rays, representing the national symbol used on the flag of China. In two horizontal lines within the sun are the dates "July 7, 1937" and "July 7, 1942," between which are four Chinese characters meaning, "Fight the War and Build the Country." Below the portrait of Lincoln, arranged in three lines, is the wording, "Of the people, by the people, for the people," and in a similar position under the portrait of Dr. Sun Yat-sen are three columns of Chinese characters of corresponding meaning. The denomination designation "5¢" is shown in the lower left corner of the stamp, to the right of which, in a horizontal line, is the wording "United States Postage." All inscriptions, except those under the portraits, are in dark lettering.

The China commemorative stamp was first placed on sale on July 7, 1942, the anniversary date, at Denver, Colo., from which point Dr. Sun Yat-sen returned to China to accept the Presidency of the new Republic.

Postmasters at direct and central-accounting post offices may submit requisition on form 3201-A, endorsed "China" for a limited supply of the new 5-cent stamp. Postmasters at district-accounting post offices may obtain small quantities of the new 5-cent stamp by requisition on the central-accounting postmasters. (Postal Bulletin No. 18451, June 17, 1942.)

The Following Notice Was Issued From the Bureau of the Fourth Assistant

WAR SAVINGS BONDS AND STAMPS
Truck Display of Posters—"Keep It Up"

Attention is invited to the Postal Bulletin of May 13, 1942, relating to the display of "Fly With The Navy" and "Keep It Up" truck posters.

The instructions relating to the display of "Keep It Up" posters should be disregarded since information has been received from the War Savings Staff that a new issue of "Keep It Up" posters, properly waterproofed, is being prepared and will be forwarded to postmasters when available. When the "Fly With The Navy" posters are withdrawn the "Keep It Up" posters should not be displayed.

Upon receipt of the new issue of "Keep It Up" posters, postmasters are authorized to display them on Government-owned trucks until further notice. (Postal Bulletin No. 18455, June 26, 1942.)
